atoxelene infusion™

No pain... No needles... No injections

At last there's a better way to enjoy the benefits of some cosmetic injections - without the expense, invasion or risk associated with an injected treatment.

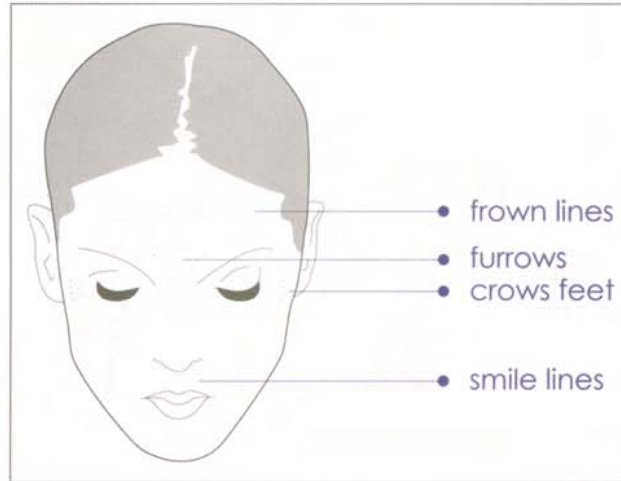

A topical alternative to anti-wrinkle injections

Exclusive to Intraceuticals, Atoxelene Infusion™ produces instant visible results.

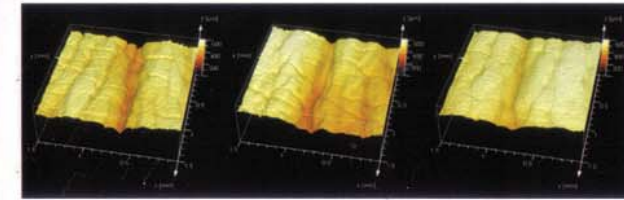

Atoxelene infusion™ is designed as a skin smoothing complex to help reduce the formation of fine expression lines and wrinkles caused by repeated facial contractions.

Atoxelene assists in the prevention of and visibly reduces the appearance of expression lines

The key to the outstanding success of Atoxelene is the combination of Intraceuticals state-of-the-art formulations combined with hyperbaric oxygen technology. Ingredients are derived from natural amino acids and produce the effect of holding the skin firmly without accompanying paralysis found with some treatments.
